MORNING!

Our Windows
Will Tell the Story

The newspapers—some of them, at least—tell you of returning prosperity, &c. It exists in their minds only. We have in the past few days secured a large purchase of at prices that don't smack of much improvement in the Clothing manufacturing business. There has been quite a demand for cheap, low-priced goods, but in fine Clothing the manufacturers are still holding their own. The goods are always in the market for GOOD GOODS. Manufacturers knowing this offer us opportunities that enable us at times to give our patrons matchless bargains. On next Friday morning we will be ready for you. We will just mention a few lots of the many in this purchase:

Fine Clothing

Elegant Black Clay Men's Suits, $6.75

All-wool Cheviot Blue, Black Men's Suits, $6.90 and Brown.

Among the best things we will offer is a magnificent line of Rochester Custom-made Suits (made by Adler Bros. & Co. and Stein-Bloch Co.) that were made to retail at $15 to $18, that

Will go in this sale at $8.75

Among the many bargains we offer from time to time this positively is the greatest.

THE GUN WENT OFF.

And "Dr." J. P. Wallace Was Scared Clear Into the Police Courtroom.

"Dr." J. P. Wallace, the genial senior proprietor of the Chamber of Commerce cigar factory, came very near "killing his man" yesterday afternoon; in fact, he would have done it had the man been at his back instead of front.

Emory, son of the "Dr." accidentally threw, or caused to be thrown, some water upon a colored man, which he didn't like.

The colored man went down and told the boy's father, and punctuated his tale with the remark that "he was going to whip him."

Mr. Wallace told him he would attend to the boy, whereupon the colored man told him "he was not afraid of any white man," or words to that effect.

The "Doctor" took exceptions to, and ordered the man out of his place, at the same time stooping down to get a pistol that was handy.

The colored man started out as soon as he saw what was about to happen, when the gun went off, the ball crashing through the glass in the partition and a glass in the door, glancing upward and missing the colored man.

Mr. Wallace was as badly scared as the man who was getting out of the way, as he only intended, it is thought, in using the weapon for a bluff.

BIG FIGHT ON.

Combination of Contractors, Employers and Business Men

Declare a War of Extermination Against Sympathetic Strikes

In the Building Trades of Chicago—If Peaceful Means Fail General Lockout, Wage Reductions and Even Legal Proceedings May Be Resorted To

CHICAGO, May 18.—A war of extermination against sympathetic strikes in the building trades has been declared by a combination of Chicago contractors, employers and other business men. A serious conflict with organized labor is feared before the crusade is over.

The employers say they will make every effort to attain the desired end through co-operation and arbitration with the building trades council and with the unions, but that if these means fail, general lockouts, wage reductions and even legal proceedings may be resorted to in order to force the labor organizations to terms.

Step one taken was to turn toward the organization of the employers who are to enter a fight against the "labor trust." The new combination will represent many millions of dollars in building business, giving employment to tens of thousands of skilled workmen. It is organized on the same general lines as the building trades council, with two delegates from each organization of bosses, with one additional delegate for each 50 members.

THORNTON DEAD.

The Bullet in His Head Proves Fatal—Milt Thornton Dies at His Work.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 18.—Piston Thorntons, who shot himself in the parlor of Milton H. Smith's residence in this city Sunday, died at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning. His father and mother, who came here from Lexington, were by his side when death came.

The body has been removed from the palatial home of Mr. Smith, where the tragic occurred, to the residence of Mrs. John M. Bowles, an aunt of the deceased, from which the funeral will occur Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

It has been learned that young Thornton was the son of Mr. Smith and his three brothers, and that he evidently threatened upon the second visit to take the life of Miss Nettie Belle Smith, the daughter of Mr. Smith. Thornton, it was told, that Miss Smith would not see him, but he was persistent, and leaving the second time, he probably obtained the revolver with which the self-murder was committed.

When he reached the door the second time he up his car to Miss Nettie Belle Smith. Her mother told her to tell him that she would not see him any more, and that it would be useless for him to call. Miss Smith, however, is said to have loved young Thornton devotedly.

"It would be unkind, mother," she replied, "not to see this boy and I will let him in."

She went downstairs and stepped into the parlor. At the door with his hat in his hand stood the lover. "Nettie Belle," he said excitedly, "do you intend to marry me?"

"No," was the reply. "I love my father, too, and as long as he withholds his consent I will not marry you."

Without a word the young man dropped his hat from his nervous fingers, stood silent for a moment, and then drew a revolver from his pocket and turned the glittering muzzle toward his heart. A shot rang out and the young man fell dead to the floor.

Hardly had the weapon fallen from his stiffening fingers, however, than his mother and his side implored him to speak to her.

A servant was sent after a basin of hot water, and then, as his life sparkled, he ran out and stained the carpet, he ran out and stained his tunic, and bathed his temples. The crimson blood was washed away as it oozed from the wound in his breast. He tried to speak but his strength was rapidly diminishing and it was apparent that he was dying.

In the meantime the greatest confusion reigned in the palatial home of the millionaire railroad magnate. Mr. Smith was extremely agitated, and with grief, sent a note to the railroad office directing that a special train should be sent out at once for Lexington to hurry the mother and sister to the scene of the tragedy.

The engineer of the special train had orders to make no stops except for water, and within three hours the train pulled in at the Loth street depot. A carriage was in waiting and conveyed the mother and grief-stricken sisters to the bedside of the dying man.

Two Bicycles Killed.

LONDON, May 18.—A dispatch to the Standard from Moscow says the police have made 60 arrests, most of the suspects being men with university education, although working as mill hands, on planning a big mail strike. They will be sent to Siberia without trial.

London, May 18.—Mr. C. Chamberlain, of Denver, Col., was killed while bicycling in St. Louis. Mr. Chamberlain was formerly president of the Chamberlain Investment Co. of Denver, and was connected with several New York insurance companies.

Number of Hours Increased.

LAUREL, Mass., May 18.—The Everett cotton mill began running on a 50% longer week schedule during the past few months they have been running 46 hours.

GRANTED AID.

Money for Starving and Destitute Americans in Cuba.

The President Recommends Relief and the Senate Endorses It.

The Sum of $50,000 Is Appropriated—Part of This Is to Disperse Seed and Cottonseed. Money Is Asked for Return of Indigenous Americans.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The president Monday sent the following message to Congress:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

"Official information from the consul in Cuba establishes the fact that a large number of American citizens in the island are in a state of destitution, suffering for want of food and medicine, and his applicability particularly to the rural districts of the central and eastern parts."

"The agricultural classes have been forced from their farms into the nearest towns, where they are without work or money."

"The local authorities of the country, however, kindly disposed, are unable to relieve the needs of their own people and altogether powerless to help our citizens."

"The latest report of General Consul Lester estimates 600 to 800 Americans are without means of subsistence. I have accordingly directed that a sum be made at once to relieve them of their wants. In that event I recommend that congress make an appropriation of not less than $50,000 immediately available under the direction of the secretary of state."

"It is desirable that a part of the sum which may be appropriated by congress should, in the discretion of the secretary of state, also be used for the importation of cottonseed and cotton, which desirous to return to the United States, are without the means to do so."

WILLIAM McKNIGHT, Executive Mansion, May 17, 1897."

In the Senate, the leading Republicans decided Monday to support a resolution carrying into effect the president's message in regard to Cuba.

The Cuban resolution appropriating $60,000 for the relief of destitute Americans in Cuba, passed the senate with but a division.

The warren's jury Monday brought in a verdict that the ten passengers and the crew who perished last Sunday, died from asphyxiation, the result of an accidental fire in the steamer, and exonerating the officers from all responsibility in connection with the disaster.
